Hong Kong companies are facing significant uncertainties amid the Sino-US trade battle and the slow recovery from the pandemic. They are under scrutiny on cross border trade and encountering high tariffs imposed by western countries such as the European Union and the United States. Additionally, stiff competition from Southeast Asian countries has been intensified.

Nevertheless, Mainland China's diversified development and expanding industrial supply chains present great business opportunities for Hong Kong enterprises. Furthermore, Mainland China being Hong Kong's largest trading partner and the world's biggest consumer market, it creates ample untapped potential.

To address these challenges and opportunities, the speakers will provide an overview of the latest updates to Company Law of the People's Republic of China and share an update of the global Collectability Index, offering insights and intelligence for businesses when trading with China.
